

Selection 1 (Set 1)

Analysis: Lit - Paired Passage

Selection: Presentation

This paper scores a 1 for the presentation of the evidence; while the evidence is recognizable due to its specificity, it does not reach the level of a 2, given the lack of quoted evidence and the fact that the paraphrased evidence doesn't really paraphrase the text. This paper just includes a few details from the texts.

Essay: Lit - Paired Passage

Lukes perspective at the beginning was scared and upset. Luke's scared and he's under-age for war, but still going. Luke was stern and he knew he could've prevented this from happening. In the beginning, luke was worried and regretful.

Lukes perspective at the end was happy and relieved. Luke's happy and he got to go home. Lukes relieved. The war was finally over. Also, the story said that the bird saved many of people. Lukes perspective at the end was joyful and excited.

The birds made him feel better. The bird made Luke feel better when he/she brought the letter saying that the war was over early. The birds impact on Luke was that the was the cause of making Luke feel relived.