

Selection 2 (Set 1)

Analysis: Lit - Paired Passage

Selection: Choice

This paper scores a 2 for choice because most of the evidence selected, albeit hard to distinguish, is connected to the main idea of the paper. This paper does not score a three because each paragraph has one piece of evidence, so most of it cannot be connected to the topic of that paragraph. Additionally, the paraphrased evidence about the bird is not connected to the second body paragraph.

Essay: Lit - Paired Passage

Lukes perspective at the beginning was scared and upset. Luke's scared and he's under-age for war, but still going. Luke was stern and he knew he could've prevented this from happening. In the beginning, luke was worried and regretful.

Lukes perspective at the end was happy and relieved. Luke's happy and he got to go home. Lukes relieved. The war was finally over. Also, the story said that the bird saved many of people. Lukes perspective at the end was joyful and excited.

The birds made him feel better. The bird made Luke feel better when he/she brought the letter saying that the war was over early. The birds impact on Luke was that the was the cause of making Luke feel relived.