

Term: “Directly”

Definition:

Direct evidence is taken from the text verbatim, copied correctly without altering the meaning, and surrounded by quotes to indicate that the student is using the author’s words and not her own.