

Term: “Sentence Beginnings Vary”

Definition:

In order to avoid monotony the author makes an attempt to vary the way he or she begins his sentence. There are no sections of the paper where multiple sentences begin with the same word. See http://www.ehow.com/how_7906729_vary-sentence-beginnings.html for more suggestions on varying sentence structure and beginnings.