IV. Reports and Discussion

A. Principal Reports

Morgan Carter, AF Providence Mayoral Academy Elementary School principal, shared that the kindergarten has already met several goals at the proficient and advanced levels for reading. Next week is the math RICAS. They feel good momentum going into testing. As the third and fourth graders walk down the halls to take their tests, the hallways are lined with K-2 grade scholars and teachers who applaud and cheer for them.

Teacher appreciation week was a fun week celebrating the team.

Student attendance has been strong lately.

Kevin Lohela, AF Illuminar Elementary principal, shared that staff retention is over 90% which they are excited about. They are onboarding two new members of the leadership team - both internal hires from the founding team. Student attrition is 0.08%. School culture data and parent survey results are strong and academic achievement is showing gains.

Molly Rintz, AF Illuminar Social Worker, shared that that students have not been stressed about the state tests.

Mayor Elorza inquired about chronic absenteeism. Molly Rintz discussed the approach to address the challenges. Partnering with families has been the key. They work to identify absenteeism early.

Elizabeth Winangun shared Libby Miller's report from AF Providence Mayoral Academy Middle School. Teacher retention is 100% which they are excited about. End of year events are coming up and Elizabeth will share dates with the board.

Aja Davis, incoming principal, will reside in Providence as of June.

Molly Rintz talked about the role of truancy officers.

RESOLVED, the AF Rhode Island Board of Directors hereby approves the following individuals to serve as Truancy Officers to serve in an authorized capacity on behalf of the scholars of AF Rhode Island.

AF Providence Elementary School:

Julissa Polanco, Director of School Operations

Kiara Fuller, Social Worker.

AF Illuminar Elementary School:

Shawna Melton, Director of School Operations

Diana Ferreira, School Services Manager

AF Providence Middle School:

Salvador Pellerano, Director of School Operations

Grace Moore, Social Worker

B. Facilities Update

The board discussed the Garfield and Westminster locations. James Wiley expressed a desire to see the matrix of "if then" scenarios for green lighting plans for moving ahead with each space.

WHEREAS, Achievement First Rhode Island, Inc. ("AFRI") leases the real property at 370 Hartford Avenue in Providence, Rhode Island and is working to create additional classroom space on the lower level, establish a bus drop-off loop within the service drive, and fix steam pipe issues in the building; and

WHEREAS, AFRI has conditionally approved entering into a lease agreement for certain real property and improvements known as 85 Garfield Avenue in Cranston, Rhode Island and needs to undertake legal, due diligence, planning, regulatory, and renovation costs accordingly; and

WHEREAS, AFRI has conditionally approved the purchase of certain real property and improvements known as 870 Westminster Street in Providence, Rhode Island and needs to undertake legal, due diligence, planning, regulatory, and renovation costs accordingly; and

WHEREAS, both philanthropy and financing are being actively pursued for these projects, provided, however, funds are necessary to move the projects forward;

BE IT RESOLVED, that an allocation of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of cash is hereby designated and approved to be used in accordance with AFRI fiscal policies and procedures for any and all of the capital projects associated with 370 Hartford Avenue, 85 Garfield Avenue, and 870 Westminister Street.

C. External Relations Update

Elizabeth Winangun gave an update on guests she has hosted.

RIDE is rolling out a new rating system which will be a system of stars going forward. RIDE has created easy to understand graphics to explain the rating system. It will likely come out in the fall 2018. Right now, when a family wants to know how a school is performing, they get the Composite Index Score.

Final Visitor Day is May 30th from 9-10:30am.

D. Treasurer Report

Brian Gallogly gave the report on behalf of Ben Smith, Treasurer. Overall, the three schools together will end the year on budget. The Balance Sheet looks very strong.

On the proposed FY19 budget, Brian shared that philanthropy will be needed for the middle school as it continues to grow. Title I and II should increase. State funding is increasing by approximately 2%.

RESOLVED, the AF Rhode Island Board of Directors hereby approves the financial report as presented.
